The freshest official statement from Petrograd claims little more, although it was reported Sunday that the Germans had been driven back.

Lee County Will Try Joba If He Is Brought Here

U.S. Government will Give County Chance at Horse Thief And Deserter

Joba who stole a livery outfit owned by Lee Read several weeks ago, will be tried in this county for that crime provided he is captured by a Lee county authority or turned over to them, notwithstanding the fact that he is wanted for desertion from the United States army. This was made known in a letter received by Sheriff Reid from the adjutant general of the United States army.

On the other hand, if a government officer should locate and arrest the young man, or should he be turned over to them, then they would give him a trial before a court martial. After their rights in him had been relinquished by his answer for that crime, then he would be turned over to the authorities of this county for trial here.

MAY HAVE BEEN HOLD-UP VICTIM

THINK INDIANA MAN WHOSE BODY WAS FOUND AT PEKIN, WAS ROBBED.

(Special to the Telegraph.)
Pekin, Ill., Nov. 23.—F. G. Glendinning of New Castle, Ind., whose body was found in a C. & N. W. freight car early Friday morning may have been the victim of hold-up men, according to the theories of the officials who have been working on the case.

The South Pekin yards of the railway company have been the scene of frequent hold-ups the past two weeks and the officials of the company have been stirred to action. Friday evening brakeman Dwyer was held up at the point of a gun and robbed of $27. Sunday morning two suspects were arrested, and they may be the men who are responsible for Glendinning's death.

MAYOR REFUSED TO VOTE; COUNCIL WAS DEADLOCKED

CHIEF EXECUTIVE HAD TO BE "SHOWN"—FINALLY CAST
HIS VOTE.

APPOINTED PROBATION OFFICER

H. H. Heinze Will Look After the Wayward Children of the City.

A lively session of the city council resulted from the return of Commissioner Will A. Schuler from a hunting trip in the north. It is not fair to blame Commissioner Schuler with causing the likely session. It was merely a coincidence.

Heinze Is Appointed

The feature of the meeting was the appointment by Mayor W. B. Brinton of H. H. Heinze, purchasing agent for the I. N. U., as special probation officer. Mr. Heinze was made special policeman with full police powers and his duties will be confined to the care of wayward children, and children who lack the watchful care and influence of an older person. Mr. Heinze has been actively interested in all sorts of charity work since coming to Dixon and has done a great amount of good in this city through his work in the Big Brother movement in the local lodge of Elks and in the Good Fellow club. It was Mr. Heinze who first interested the Evening Telegraph to start the movement here and he is largely responsible for the success of the organization and the great good it has done.

A Deadlock.

A lot of fun emanated from Mayor Brinton's stand on a point of parliamentary law, which he used as his authority for refusing to vote on a certain measure. Commissioner Van Bibber brought up the subject of the hours governing the closing of pool and billiard halls. He asked that they be allowed to stay open on Saturday nights until 12 o'clock, which is the hour the bowling alleys close every night. In the preliminary discussion Mayor Brinton and Commissioners Schmidt and VanBibber spoke favor-

WAYNE SAWYER'S MACHINE CAUGHT FIRE NEAR NORTH- WESTERN VIADUCT.

All of the wiring of the machine was burned out and the manifold was melted putting the machine out of commission. The fire was extinguished with a large blanket.

Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer and Mr. and Mrs. John Tyrell had started to Amboy when the accident occurred. Local garage men hauled the car back to this city where it will be repaired.

Over Thousand Head of Cattle Have Been Killed

No Abatement In Spread of Hoof And Mouth Disease Noted

(Special to the Telegraph.)

Sterling, Nov. 23.—With no abatement in the spread of the cattle disease among the cattle and hogs of Whiteside county, the four veterinarians on the job, Doctors Hoover, and Clark, assistant state veterinarians and Doctors Eason and Warner, government experts, are continuing the work of slaughtering. Saturday two herds were killed, aggregating a total of nearly four hundred cattle and hogs. At the J. J. Entwistle farm in Union Grove, over a hundred head of cattle were killed, sixty-eight being fat steers almost ready for market. Over one hundred head of hogs were also killed. At the farm of Wallace G. Lawrence in Fulton seventy-five head of cattle and hogs were killed. At both of these places all the veterinarians, representing the state and government were present and engaged in the killing.

Hard on Farmers.

A total of nearly one thousand head of cattle and as many more hogs have already been killed in Whiteside county. In many instances the blow on the farmers is unusually hard, the herds killed representing practically their entire year's work. In every instance the herds were appraised by the veterinarians. The state pays one-half of the cost and the government pays the other half. In all probability the owners will be obliged to wait a considerable length of time before receiving the money, the state not having an appropriation at the present time to cover the expenses.

U.S. Army Is Departing From Vera Cruz Today

Gen. Funston Leads His Forces From Mexican City After Seven Months

(Associated Press.)

Vera Cruz, Nov. 23.—The United States army troops, who have occupied Vera Cruz for the past seven months, began leaving the city this morning for their return to the United States.

The city is quiet. Gen. Funston has reported that Carranza's troops under Gen. Aguilar are taking possession of the city.

Cost Twenty Lives.

The occupation of Vera Cruz by the United States forces cost twenty American soldiers' lives, some in battle and some from disease. The estimates place the money cost of the occupation of the city at $10,000,000.

Took Mexicans Away.

Three hundred Mexicans who did not wish to remain here were taken away by the American quartermaster's department.

INDICT UNION BREWING CO.

WAS EXAMINING REVOLVER; BANG!

LYLE MESSER HANDLED A "STRANGE REVOLVER"—CAFE WINDOW WRECKED.

Examination of a loaded revolver might have resulted seriously when a high caliber gun exploded in the hands of Lyle Messer at the Manhattan restaurant at 2 o'clock Sunday morning. The bullet crashed through the cafe window and struck a building across the street.

The gun was owned by Wayne Lambert mail messenger, and he had gone to the restaurant for a lunch. He took his revolver from his pocket and laid it on the lunch counter while he was seated and Messer picked it up and was examining it when it discharged.

Brethren Church Revival Services Started Sunday

Large Audiences Pleased With First Barnhart and Heckman Meetings

The Barnhart-Heckman revival meetings began brilliantly with the morning services Sunday. A splendid audience was out to greet the new speaker, and listened with marked attention. The snappy enthusiasm and life Miss Heckman put into the singing gave even the old songs new life. It is not enough to say that the speaker was eloquent. The sermon was polished and masterly, and he made a splendid appearance in the pulpit. He spoke upon the ambassadorship of the Christian profession. He would have men who espoused the cause of Christ to have found not only a new job, but a big and important one. He insisted not upon merchant, farmer, shop and factory Christians, but also Christian merchants, farmers, shopmen, etc. He would have Christians to

DR. JAMES L. CAMP DIED SUNDAY MORN

FORMER DIXON PHYSICIAN PAS- SED AWAY AT BRAINARD, MINN.

Dr. James L. Camp, a former resident of Dixon and one time a practicing physician here, died at Brainard, Minnesota, Sunday of heart disease. Dr. Camp was a member of the advisory commission of the state sanitarium at Walker at the time of his death.

Later he went to Knox college and finished his education at Cornell university, where in addition to being a brilliant student he won honors as a member of Cornell's champion crew. Returning to Dixon he worked as a civil engineer for three years, later taking up the practice of medicine as an assistant to Dr. Hunt.

A number of years later he went to Dakota where he became medical superintendent on the Sioux Indian Reservation. Says Verdict Places Premium On Murder

The Whiteside Sentinel, published at Morrison, says concerning the verdict of acquittal in the Byers case:

"When the jury in the Byers murder trial returned that verdict yesterday afternoon the impression obtained that it had placed a premium on crime and admitted to the world that human life is held cheaply in Whiteside county."

"The general consensus of opinion seems to be that there was no good ground for the acquittal of the women and there is a great wonderment among thinking people of the county that the defendants should go scot free in the fact of the evidence presented against them at the trial."

AURORA WOMEN ARE IN GRIP OF CONSTANT FEAR

ANOTHER WOMAN WAS ATTACK-ED SUNDAY NIGHT NEAR HER HOME.

NO TRACE OF MURDERER

Police Theory That Murderous Maniac Is At Large in City Grows.

(Special to the Telegraph.)

Aurora, Nov. 23.—The police have been unable to learn of any clue that may lead to the apprehension of the murderer of Miss Jennie Miller; but the most successful detectives of Chicago are now at work on the case, and developments are expected soon.

The church-yard Apache has created a reign of terror in Aurora.

With the murders of Theresa Holander and Jennie Miller still unsolved mysteries and with assailant of aged Mrs. Martha Thompson still at large, women are afraid to walk the streets of this peaceful city alone after dark.

If they are obliged to be abroad in the darkness they either demand police or citizen escorts or hurry affrightedly down the middle of the street, never pausing for fear of beholding behind them the shape that has claimed two lives and attempted possibly two more. The men talk of lynching in case of capture.

Pastor's Daughter in Peril.

In his latest exploit the unidentified male vampire picked out for his victim the young and pretty daughter of an Aurora minister, Miss Mary Brandt, whose father, the Rev. Frank E. Brandt, is pastor of Trinity Episcopal church. She escaped unharmed.

The Brandt home adjoins Trinity church, in the heart of the fashionable residence district around Benton street and Lincoln avenue, just a half block from the Free Methodist church, near where Jennie Miller was struck down.

Miss Brandt was returning from a neighboring drug store shortly after dark today when she encountered the prowler.

He was lurking in the shadows of her father's church and started after her when she passed.

Fearing that he intended to attack her, she quickened her pace.

As she ran up the front steps of her home the man was at her heels.

Attempts Entry to House.

He even tried to go into the house but she slammed the door in his face. He muttered threats of violence and even sought to force his way in but Miss Brandt had made sure she had bolted it.

Almost hysterical from fright, she began to scream.

When the members of her family came rushing into the front hall they found her in a swoon on the floor.

Outside Rev. Mr. Brandt saw the disappearing form of the girl's would be assailant as he beat a hasty retreat across the front lawn.

He dashed in pursuit. The man, however, proved too fleet of foot and easily threw the minister off his trail.

and darkness aided in his escape. Resembles Miller Slayer.

When Miss Brandt was finally revived she gave a description of the man that, it is later learned, tallied in many ways with the man sought by the police in connection with the Miller murder.

In view of the fact that the attempted attack followed so closely after the attack on Mrs. Thompson Saturday night the police are almost convinced that a murder maniac is at large in the city.

COMPTON RESIDENT DIED SUNDAY

Garrett Eddy, an aged and respected resident of Lee county, passed away at his home at Compton early Sunday morning. Death followed a stroke of apoplexy which she suffered about a week ago.

The deceased is survived by his wife, three sons and one daughter, Louis of this city, Jesse of Compton, Albert of Clinton, Iowa, and Mrs. J. W. line of South Dixon.

IF CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH AND SICK

LOOK MOTHER! IF TONGUE IS COATED GIVE "CALIFORNIA" SYRUP OF FIGS.

Children love this "fruit laxative" and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely.

A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become tightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach clogs, then your little one becomes cross, half sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally, breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach ache or diarrhea. Listen Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the complicated waste passes out of the system, and you have a well playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs," because it is perfectly harmless; children love it and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

be wells in the communities where they live, but not the kind that will freeze up in the winter and go dry in the summer. He would have men be a light in their respective communities, but not the rocket kind that shoot up in the sky for a moment with a dazzling light.

At the evening service a large audience was out to greet the evangelist again. The spirit of the audience gave evidence of a very hearty appreciation and interest. With ability Rev. Barnhart discussed from the narrative of the healing of the man who was deaf and had an impediment in his speech (Mark 7), making the physical maladies of this man typical of the spiritual defects. People's ears are alert to gossip over the back fence and across the alley. It appeals to them like the thunders of Sinai, yet they are deaf to sound of the gospel. The voice of conscience is stifled by the "jingle of the guinea which helps the hurt which honor feels" when graft and covetousness offer its price. People are awake to the approach of physical danger—the hiss or rattle of a snake, the honk of the automobile and the whistle of the locomotive, etc. But the greater perils of sin, loud in their warning, are unheard.

PONDEROUS PERSONAGES—GENERAL BOULANGER

France has been too busy for some time to remember much about General George Ernst Marie Boulanger.

Yet he was a man who would have gotten more satisfaction out of the war with Germany than any other living Frenchman. War with Germany was his political platform for years and his intense and deep-seated desire to scrunch the fatherland into a collection of writhing remains came very near making an emperor out of him in 1889.

Boulanger was a political disturbance who swelled up into Napoleonic size for a few years and exploded with a loud report about 25 years ago leaving nothing but an old man with a shady personal reputation and unlimited regrets. He was born in 1837 and in his youth was a brave soldier fighting for France with sword, fists, shoulders, tongue and pen wherever the enemy was thickest. After the capture of Paris he devoted himself to the task of hating Germany. So successful was he that he hated himself into a Brigadier Generalship and then into the directorship of the infantry, in which office he made reforms and improvements and yelled for vengeance until France began to regard him as the biggest man in the world and clamored for the privilege of following him.

But Boulanger hesitated. Weeks passed and he did not kick over the government and eradicate the constitution. The government plucked up courage and issued a warrant for his arrest. To the intense surprise of everybody Boulanger fled and as his coat tails receded in the dim horizon a great man dwindled into an adventurer and France's last danger from the Royalists disappeared.

Boulanger blew his brains out in Brussels in 1891 at the grave of a lady to whom he had been only partially married and so great was his obscurity that not even the students in the Latin quarter started a riot about it.

Milwaukee Bridge Tender Prevents Plunge Into River.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 23.—John Chambers, bridge tender, wrecked a street car on the bascule bridge at West Water street to save sixty persons from death in the waters of the Menominee river. The motorman and one passenger were seriously injured and twenty others, mostly women, received minor hurts. The car ran on to the north bridge approach as the leaf was being raised. The car was only a few feet from the yawning space when Chambers dropped the south leaf, crushing the front vestibule of the car.

When You Select Your Turkey.

In selecting your turkey or chicken choose a bird that is heavy in proportion to its size. Avoid those fowls that have a prominent breastbone, and pass over those having coarse skin and rough scales on the legs, for these show old age. Select a bird that has clean, smooth, yellow feet and legs, moist and delicate skin and a plump breast, which, when pressed with the thumb, will be elastic.

WOMEN WHO KILL.

The Saturday Evening Post of this week carries an editorial which concerns a topic that is prominent in the minds of the local public just now. The Post editor says:

Occasionally there is an exception to the rule that any female who is not wholly disreputable and has not a positive squint can kill anybody she chooses and go free. Making due allowance for infants and for females who are handicapped by physical repulsiveness or by vulgar police records we should say that, as to fully a quarter of the population of the United States, the chance of being punished for homicide is barely one out of a hundred. Women are in much the same position as though the law defined homicide as a misdemeanor punishable by a fortnight's attendance in court, attired in their most becoming clothes and duly wept over by sympathetic spectators.

In view of the almost total immunity for mob murders, the near immunity for female homicides, the near immunity for male murderers who plead the unwritten law, and the chance that any other male homicide the police capture will escape on some technicality, it is an open question whether the death penalties and life imprisonments with which the law threatens murderers are of any value in protecting life.

We consider it highly probable that if every murderer were quickly and surely punished by a year's imprisonment there would be fewer homicides in the United States than there are today, while the law threatens awful penalties but rarely inflicts them.

As to women who kill, it would be a decided improvement if they could be brought before some unsentimental judge who would sternly sentence them to scrub the court house floors for the next six months.

THE FALLEN SPARROW.

There is a beautiful Arabian tale in which the archangel is dispatched to summon the mighty Solomon to meet God. Before departing on his mission the archangel is also directed to stop on his way to succor a mother ant that has fallen with its burden of food into a crevice of a rock on Mt. Caucasus, and the chief of the almighty hosts listened to both commands as of equal importance. The philosophy of the parable may be applied to the present situation in Europe. It is not likely that Belgium will be overlooked.—Rochester Post-Express.

A CONCRETE LINCOLN HIGHWAY.

Before the township elections roll around in the spring, arrangements should be made to vote on a bond issue to build a concrete road along the Lincoln Highway from both entrances of the city to both the east and west township lines. Such an approach to Dixon along this main artery of travel would be of great value in many ways.

DO YOUR GOODFELLOWING EARLY.

If you want to have the greatest influence in the Good Fellow work in Dixon this holiday season, act now. Phone or write or call on the Good Fellow department at the Telegraph office and let us know what you will do for the cause. There are many poor people in this city; not as many as in most cities this size, but enough that every Good Fellow is needed on the firing line if all of Dixon is to have a Merry Christmas. The workers in the organization which has done so much good in this city during the past years are busy gathering names and data to carry on their campaign. Give them the encouragement they deserve by letting them know what they can expect from you.

ALL THE THRILLS OF CITY LIFE.

Dixon is up-to-date every minute of the night or day. We will not be outdone and these big towns like Chicago have nothing on us when it comes to "crime waves," shooting affairs down town, etc. If you care anything for that sort of entertainment, stick around nights (the North Side is a likely place and River street affords excellent opportunities for a hold-up) and you can find something doing almost any time. If you can't get enough of a thrill out of a plain holdup you can ride under the Third street arch in a taxi and probably get shot at.

DEAD DAYS.

The world went well when I was young; no gossip had an evil tongue; but people went from shack to shack to praise a man behind his back. We had the reign unbroken, then, of peace on earth, good will to men. The world grows better, I am told; it may be so—I'm growing old, and everything that's dead looks fine; I want no modern things in mine. What tales were told, what songs were sung, in those brave days when I was young! Then giants plied the pen inspired, and noble bards sat up and lyred; but note the books they're printing now, adapted to the lowest brow. What sort of music do we know? A rag-time strain by Jungle Joe. To dig up music that will last, you have to rake around the past; to find a book that isn't rot, you look to Thackeray and Scott. There's nothing now of lasting worth, that I can see, in all the earth. Perhaps the old world's not to blame; perhaps I'm weary of the game, as people tire when they grow old, and hands and heart and feet are cold. And so we'll let it go at that; ambitious Youth is at the bat.

MAYOR REFUSED TO VOTE ON MOTION

ably of the proposition, although Commissioner Schuler expressed himself as being very much opposed to allowing the pool rooms to stay open longer than they are at present. When Commissioner Van Bibber moved the passage of the ordinance allowing the pool halls to remain open until midnight Saturday nights and 11 o'clock other weekday nights, and closed all day Sunday, Commissioners Cahill, Schmidt and Van Bibber voted "yes," Commissioner Schuler voted "no" and Mayor Brinton did not vote.

His fellow commissioners called for his vote, and he stated that he did not intend to vote; then they demanded that he vote, and declared that under the laws of the commission form of government every member, including the Mayor, was required to vote. The Mayor stood pat and declared the pool hall ordinance passed, and offered a motion to adjourn. The commissioners, not that it mattered, for the ordinance had been passed, but just because they wanted to make some fun and because they had the Mayor in a hole, voted "no" on the adjournment and declared that they would not vote to adjourn until the Mayor had cast his vote. The Mayor was not to be bluffed, so he lighted a cigar, leaned back in his chair, got his feet in a comfortable position, stuck his thumbs in the armholes of his vest and said, "All right, I'm in no hurry and we'll just stay here as long as you fellows want to. I've got a pocket full of cigars and I can send out for my lunch. Go as far as you like."

And there they were, deadlocked as tight as any Illinois legislature ever was. The city officials had all been to Commissioner Schuler's home Saturday evening and they consumed so much venison steak and broiled partridge that they had not yet recovered their appetites, but the newspaper men were not in such an enviable position and the "scribes" began to wonder whether they would get a chance to sleep tonight.

The day was saved by City Attorney Mark Keller, who appeared with numerous law books under his arm. The City Clerk was given a passage to read which declared that the Mayor was required to vote on all questions, the same as the commissioners. The Mayor had to put on his specs and read it for himself before he would believe it, but he was a game loser and shouted, "I vote aye," and so he went on record as favoring the ordinance.

Rebate $25.

A rebate of $25 was allowed Henry Floto, who had paid an assessment on a sewer job in front of his property in North Dixon and afterward sold part of the property, so that one of the laterals from the sewer main was of no value to him.

BIG BROTHER IDEA GROWS STEADILY

ACTIVITY OF ELKS RESULTS IN ACTIVITY BY THE CITY COUNCIL.

The appointment by Mayor W. B. Brinton of H. H. Heinze of this city as a special probation officer, with full police powers, is another big step in the furtherance of the splendid work of the Big Brother organization of the B. P. O. E. No. 779. The local Elks started this organization in Dixon some months ago. It is a national Elk movement, started by the Grand Lodge, and is being carried on all over the nation.

Mr. Heinze is chairman of the Big Brother committee of the local Elks and he and his fellow workers have been doing most commendable work among the boys of Dixon. The plan is for each Elk to take charge of one or more boys who need supervision and see that they go to school, keep good hours, are properly clothed and cared for. They exert a good influence over the lads at an age when they are easily molded for good or bad and the work that the Big Brothers are doing will be felt greater in later years when boys who perhaps would have amounted to nothing, or worse, will prove good citizens.

Mr. Heinze is also deeply interested in the Good Fellow work that is being carried on by the Evening Telegraph with the indispensable assistance of himself and others, and he is one of the most active workers for the cause. It was through his influence that the Good Fellow club was first started in Dixon by this newspaper and it is through his work and enthusiasm that it has reached such a degree of success. The city officials selected an ideal man to carry on the work of probation officer. Mr. Heinze has his heart in the work and his heart is big enough to take in every unfortunate "kiddie" in town. The boys will be well taken care of if they are put in the hands of the new probation officer.

where they conversed in guarded tones in spite of the fact that the subject of their communications could not possibly have heard them.

"I've come to tell you something," Barcus announced with characteristic awkwardness. "I've known it for three days—ever since the wedding. In fact—and kept it to myself, not knowing whether I ought to tell you yet or not."

He paused, eyeing her uncertainly, unhappily.

"I am prepared," Judith assured him calmly.

"You're nothing of the sort," he countered, argumentative. "You couldn't be. It's the most amazing thing imaginable. . . . See here . . ."

"Well?"

"You understand, don't you, that Alan must never know that Rose was killed by that lightning stroke?"

"What do you mean?"

"I mean," the man floundered miserably, "you see, he loved her so—I thought—I'm sure it would be best—if you can bring yourself to it—to let him go on believing it wasn't Rose who was killed, but Judith. And that's skating so close to the truth that it makes no difference: the Judith Alan knew and the Judith I knew in the beginning is gone as completely as though she and not Rose had been killed."

After a long pause, the girl asked him quietly: "I understand. But is it possible you don't understand that, if I were to consent to this proposition, lend myself to a deception which I must maintain through all my life to come—Alan would consider me his wife?"

"Well, but—you see—you are his wife. . . . Oh, don't think I'm off my hat. I'm telling you the plain, unvarnished truth. You are Alan's wife. . . . No, listen to me. You remember that day in New York when you substituted for Rose, when Alan tried to elope with her, and when you went with him to Jersey City, and stood up to be married by a preacher-guy named Wright—and Marrophat broke in just at the critical moment and busted up the party?"

"Well?" she demanded breathlessly.

Barcus produced a folded yellow paper from his coat pocket and proffered it.

"Read that. It was handed to me as best man, just before the ceremony. Seeing it was addressed to Alan and knowing he was in no frame of mind to be bothered by telegrams, I slipped it into my pocket and forgot all about it temporarily. When I came to find it, I took the liberty of reading it. But read it for yourself."

The typewritten lines of the long message blurred and ran together almost indecipherably in Judith's vision. None the less, she contrived to grasp the substance of its meaning.

"WHY DIDN'T YOU WIRE ME SOONER?" it ran: "MARRIAGE TO ROSE IMPOSSIBLE. REV. MR. WRIGHT INFORMED ME YOUR MARRIAGE TO JUDITH LAST WEEK HAD GONE TOO FAR WHEN MARROPHAT INTERRUPTED. JUDITH LEGALLY YOUR WIFE. WOULD HAVE ADVISED YOU SOONER HAD YOU LET ME KNOW WHERE TO ADDRESS YOU. HOPE TO HEAVEN THIS GETS TO YOU BEFORE TOO LATE."

The message was signed with the name of Alan's confidential man of business in New York.

When Judith looked up she was alone in the room, but for the silent patient on his couch.

Slowly, almost fearfully, she crept to his bedside and stood looking down into the face of her husband.

And while she looked Alan's lashes fluttered, his respiration quickened, a faint color crept into his pallid cheeks—and his eyes opened wide and looked into hers.

His lips moved and breathed a word of recognition:

"Judith!"

With a low cry of tenderness, the girl sank to her knees and encircled his head with her arms.

"Judith," she whispered, hiding her face in his bosom, "Judith is no more . . ."

A pause; and then the feeble voice: "Then, if I was mistaken, if you aren't Judith, you must be Rose—my wife!"

She said steadily: "I am your wife." His hands fumbled with her face, closed upon her cheeks, lifted her head until her eyes must look into his.

And for many minutes he held her so, looking deep into the soul of the woman.

Then quietly he said: "I know . . ."

Try This! Hair Gets Thick, Glossy, Wavy and Beautiful At Once.

Immediate?—Yes! Certain?—That's the joy of it. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. While the British navy or that part of it which could be spared from the watch on the North Sea, was hunting the German cruiser Emden it was left to the Australian cruiser Sydney to find her and destroy her. The Emden had sunk twenty-two British war and merchant vessels, and had done millions of dollars of damage to the British cause. Captain Karl von Muller, her commander, is looked upon as one of the most daring of the sea has known. He is about 41 years old. He graduated from the naval school in 1891.

For some time Von Muller was admiralty staff officer of the German high seas fleet. Later he was stationed at Berlin and served on the immediate staff of Admiral von Tirpitz, secretary of the navy. The Emden was the first ship over which he had full command. The captain's mother and sister are living and he also has a brother who is a German army officer and a member of the general staff.

Following the Emden's exploit in the harbor of Penang when she sank a Russian cruiser and a Japanese torpedo boat destroyer, the city of Blankenburg, Germany, where Captain von Muller was born, bestowed upon him the title of "honorable citizen."

On account of the brilliant work done by the Emden in destroying the ships of the enemy the Kaiser bestowed the Iron Cross upon the captain and the other officers and crew of the Emden.

The Emden was driven ashore on the Cocos Islands, in the Indian ocean, off Sumatra. Her crew were caught cutting a British cable, and the Sydney opened fire before the German had a chance to get away. She was run ashore and burned.

"LET US GIVE THANKS UNTO THE LORD."

The ancient Hebrews kept the feast of thanksgiving with great rejoicing and religious ceremony. They called it the "feast of ingathering."

In Leviticus we are told that the Lord spoke unto Moses and said:

"Ye shall do no servile work therein, and also on the fifteenth day of the seventh month, when ye have gathered in the fruit of the land, ye shall keep a feast unto the Lord seven days, and ye shall rejoice before the Lord your God seven days."

Again in Exodus is mentioned "the feast of harvest, the first fruits of thy labors, which thou hast sown in the field, and the feast of ingathering, which is the end of the year, when thou hast gathered in thy labors out of the field."

All of these feasts occurred after harvest time, when material blessings were both abundant and obvious and the people not only had the disposition, but the time, to be thankful after the labor of crop gathering was over.

In these thanksgiving proclamations the people were commanded to take holiday, to feast and to rejoice, and all the proclamations since that day down to those annually issued by our governors have not improved upon this.

AUTO TRAGEDY IS END OF FOOTBALL JOLLYTY

Alumnus Killed and Students Hurt at Crossing.

South Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 23.—A big red Mercedes racing car containing three students of Lafayette college and two from the U. of P. was struck early in the morning at a local grade crossing of the Lehigh Valley railroad here by a freight locomotive, and John Clymer, aged twenty-two, of Riegelsville, Pa., a graduate of Lafayette college, was killed, his head being severed from his body. H. M. Miller of Philadelphia, a Lafayette student, suffered a fractured right leg and James McCandless of Honolulu, Hawaii, a student at the University of Pennsylvania, has a severely lacerated right hip. Harry Chidsey of Easton and Lafayette college and Harold Kelly of Duluth, Minn., a member of the University of Pennsylvania football and track team, escaped injury.

The men, following the Lehigh-Lafayette football game at Easton, went on a trip to Allentown and were on their way home when the accident occurred.

DUMA MEMBERS ARE ARRESTED BY POLICE

Eleven Persons Charged with Fostering Revolution.

Petrograd, Nov. 23.—A revolutionary plot in which several members of the Duma are alleged to be implicated has been discovered by the police, according to a semi-official statement issued here and warrants have been issued for eleven persons, some of whom already are under arrest.

At the beginning of the war, the statement says, most of the Russian people were conscious of the necessity of defending the dignity and integrity of the fatherland and were unanimous in assisting the authorities in the accomplishment of the tasks incurred by the operations of war.

"An altogether different attitude," the statement continues, "was observed by some members of the Social Democratic association, who continued in activity aiming at the downfall of Russia's military power by means of an anti-war agitation, the distributing of secret proclamations and the conducting of a propaganda by word of mouth."

"The government on October last learned of a scheme to convene a secret conference of delegates of the Social Democratic organization to discuss measures aiming at the ruin of the Russian state and the speedy realization of revolutionary designs."

"On Nov. 17 the police discovered that a meeting of the said conference was to be held in a house in Vihers road, eight miles from Petrograd. A detachment of police arrived on the scene and found there eleven persons, including the following members of the duma: Messrs. Petrovsky, Badayev, Mouranoff, Samoiloff and Chagoff."

John B. Wyman, who managed the famous "Passenger House," the Illinois Central hotel for the accommodation of the L. C. employees. Col. Wyman lost his life in the war of '61, then the late B. H. Trusdel purchased the place, which was considered the show place of Amboy, so beautiful was its surroundings with flowers and the shrubbery.

Hymn of Thanksgiving

By EUGENE C. DOLSON

(Copyright, 1914, by American Press Association.)

FOR guidance through the passing year,
For kindred friends from far and near,
Gathered with us around the board—
For this, today, we thank thee, Lord.

For products of the teeming soil,
Our rich returns for strenuous toil,
A bounteous harvest
safely stored,
We meet this day to thank thee, Lord.

For ties of peace
throughout the land, Fraternity of heart and hand,
From shore to shore,
in one accord,
All, all unite to thank thee, Lord.

Thanksgiving Table Decoration.
Make a large cornucopia of cardboard or wire and cover this with autumn leaves. Fill with many kinds of fruits and nuts, leaving bunches of grapes, red apples and bright oranges falling out of the mouth of the horn over the tablecloth.

Or scoop out a pumpkin and fill this with all the nuts and fruits in season, putting in a generous measure of purple grapes so that the bunches fall over the edge. If possible arrange runners of scarlet leaves from the blackberry vine from the pumpkin centerpiece to each plate.

If the Thanksgiving dinner is at night or late in the afternoon, when window shades may be pulled down to keep out the white light of day, use candles on the table and cover the shades with gay colored leaves, which, if in yellow and red tones, will give a charming effect.

INDICT PEORIA LIQUOR MEN

ments in Shipping Weights.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 23—The federal ly describing shipments. The indictment against the Union Brewing company contains twenty-eight counts and the maximum fine would be $140,000.

Three indictments, containing thirty-two counts, were returned against the Clarke company. Maximum penalties in the Clarke case would be $160,000, or two years in the penitentiary on each count.

FAMILY THEATER.

Eugene Walter's great story of the Wolf in six reels will be presented at the Family tonight. The following is a short synopsis of the story:

The Story at a Glance.
Hilda MacTavish, daughter of Andrew MacTavish, a Scotch trader in the Hudson Bay country, is a tender, unlearned, gentle girl, placed in the great loneliness of that region, and more lonesome by reason of the almost maniacal hatred of her father, who has been embittered by the early desertion of his wife and believes that "nae wimmen are guid." Jules Beaubien is a French Canadian, a handsome, true woodsman, who has been visiting at the MacTavish home for years, always with ready welcome.
Into that picture of native atmosphere comes William McDonald, a railroad engineer, who, years before, had been responsible for the downfall and death of Beaubien's half-sister.
Baubien, left by his father with the charge to find the half-sister, discovers the fact of her pitiable death and starts out to hunt the man, accompanied by Ra'tiste, his trustworthy friend, a northwestern Nomad. They discover through McDonald's boasting, that he was the betrayer of Annette, and that he is trying to deceive Hilda in the same manner.
Jules resolves first to take Hilda away from her home and the flight is accomplished after a violent scene with the maniacal father, who has been led by McDonald to believe in the sincerity of his purposes. McDonald follows the fleeing trio—Jules, Ra'tiste and Hilda. At the Bear Creek Portage the party go ahead while Jules remains behind to meet McDonald and the conflict occurs in dead darkness, ending in the death of Mc-Donald. After one of the most thrilling scenes ever put on the stage. Incidental to this fight the howling of real wolves is produced, bearing out the Canadian Indian legend.

PRINCESS THEATER.

Tonight the Princess theater will show two gih features, the first of which is entitled "The Terror of Anger." A Thauhanser drama with Morris Foster and Mignon Anderson in the leading roles. This is a story of a dramatic arguments against personal embitterment. In the story a man's wife runs away with a former lover and after a terrible chase the husband sees his wife and lover dashed to death over a cliff from which their automobile plunges. Returning home he falls asleep and dreams that he is raising his boy to hate all women and in the remainder of this picture we see on what his argument is founded. The other picture is entitled "The Friend," a Domino feature with Charles Ray and Enid Markey in the leading roles.
This is a tragic story of a man's idea of personal liberty. This story is very thrilling and vivid with love and romance enough to please everyone.

FIGHT IN POLAND MAY DECIDE WAR

near Lodz and that the German advance has been definitely checked. It is obvious, therefore, that the real situation shows the immense forces of kaiser and czar in a death grip all the way from the Baltic sea to the passes of the Carpathians, with no vital advantage to either side.

Russ Within East Prussia. Official German reports show that Russians are well within East Prussia and are in far greater force than was the case in the early part of September; but the Russian advance in East Prussia has a long way to go before the Dantzig-Thorn line is really in danger or the railroad system affected. Moreover, the nature of the country, which is marked with small lakes and marshy plains, as well as by numerous streams, is very favorable to the defenders. It is recognized that the Russian advance can progress only if the invaders are in greatly superior numbers.

All Hinges on Battle in Poland. However, the campaign in East Prussia is being fought on the plains of Poland, as is the campaign in Galicia. Upon the outcome of the battle, now raging between the Rivers Warthe and Vistula and just east of Czenstochova and Cracow depend whether or not Russia will be able to maintain a hold on German and Austrian territory.

Beaten in Poland, Russia will have to withdraw her central army to the Vistula for the defense of Warsaw and Ivangorod. A great hole will have been torn in the now connected line. Victorious in Poland, Russia will be able to advance her central army once more to the very border of Posen and Silesia; perhaps to overflow those provinces; at all events her whole connected line will have been straightened and the advance could begin solidly from north, center and south.
